Things to Love About Bellaire

- Surrounded by Houston, West University Place, and Southside Place in southwest Harris County, Bellaire is a community that prospective buyers find irresistible.
- With easy access to the Galleria, the Medical Center, and downtown Houston, Bellaire offers convenience with the charm of a small-town setting.
- Bellaire is known as the “City of Homes” because of its mostly residential character.
- Most of Bellaire’s commercial business is along the 610 Loop while the residential areas expand just beyond that.
- Today the population has grown to well over 19,000 and all residents agree that Bellaire is a great place to call home.
- Bellaire is home to several parks and green space and a quiet calm from the daily hustle. This includes the 7.5-acre Bellaire Zindler Park, the 5-acre Evelyn’s Park Conservancy and many smaller parks throughout the city.
- With spacious homes on large lots and various architectural styles beauty encompasses Bellaire neighborhoods.
- Award-winning schools, parks and recreational facilities, and excellent libraries add to the draw of this outstanding community.
